

NICARAGUA - Gen. WALKER LANDING TROOPS found by which the passage cut down the river to the opposite shore; but the walls beneath the water have long since broken away, and the communication (if there an impenetrable growth of gigantic masses and reeds, which are so interwoven as to shut out the light of day. It would be impossible for any animal larger than a rat to make its way through it.

tonous through the entire journey, Nicaragua.

the shadow of the wings of Death, and the make

the