

Hyannis May 15, 1877

My dear Sir,

I was much disappointed, not to see you yesterday. The day was so beautiful and everything so lovely. In fact, all seemed to indicate Comfort, quiet, rest — a good opportunity for calm reflection. The landscape suggested it, and the calm, placid waters of Vineyard Sound with its hundreds of vessels whose sails were flapping idly against their masts and spars indicated that calm rest and quiet which poor, worn and jaded humanity like ourselves, at times, so much desire.

Regret that I feel compelled to relinquish my home here, but circumstances render it imperative.

Sincerely trust and hope, ill health did not prevent your coming.

Capt P. Howell
Cent Dennis

Very truly yours
C. P. Willard

[1877-05-15; letter from Ephraim N. Winslow to P. S. Crowell; in pencil:]
Hyannis May 15, 1877

My dear Sir.

I was much disappointed not to see you yesterday. The day was so beautiful and everything so lovely. In fact, all seemed to indicate Comfort, quiet, rest – a good opportunity for calm reflection. The landscape suggested it, and the Calm, placid waters of Vineyard Sound with its hundreds of vessels whose sails were flapping idly against their masts and spars indicated that calm rest and quiet which poor, worn and jaded humanity like ourselves, at times, so much desire.

Regret that I feel compelled to relinquish my home here, but circumstances render it imperative.

Sincerely trust and hope, ill health did not prevent your coming.

Very truly yours
E. N. Winslow

Capt. P. S. Crowell
East Dennis

These collections are protected by United States and International copyright laws. Personal non-commercial use of these materials is allowed. Any other use is strictly prohibited without the express written permission of the Dennis Historical Society.