

Boston Sept^r the 4 1762

My Dear Brother

I jest Long to hear from you I should be very glad when you come to Chelsea if you would cross the water and spend an our or too with me; or must Mrs P have all the spare ours I have heard that you was there ~~going~~ as you pass backwards and forwards I heard from home yesterday mother and sister M has been poorly mother had had the rumitics and sister M had the canker but are both better I hear that father and aunt Freeman with sister Mary satorit to go to Hudrich yesterday — the week Before Last I went with aunt Bangs by water to hingham and was there 4 days made away pleasant visit we had a pleasant time going and coming back our friends are all well but aunt Lincoln she remains much as she was

So Dear Brother right the first opportunity

I am your sister H S

[1762-09-04 HS; letter from Huldah Stone (b. 1738) to her brother Nathan Stone (b. 1737):]

Boston Sept^r th4 1762

My Dear Brother

I jest Long to hear from you I Should be very glad when you come to Chellsa if you would Cross the water and Spend an our or too with me: or must mrs P have all the spare hours I Have heard that you was there as you passed backwards and forwards I heard from home yesterday mother and sister m^[11] has ben poorly mother had had the runities and sister m had the canker but are both better I hear that father and aunt freeman^[12] with sister mary sat out to go to Harwich yesterday the week Before Last I went with aunt Bangs^[13] by water to hingham and was there 4 days made a very pleasant visit we had a pleasant time going and comeing back our frinds are all well but aunt Lincoln^[14] She remains much as She was

Do Dear Brother right the first opertunity from your sister H S

¹¹ Sister Mary Stone, b. 1742, d. 1777; she married in 1770, Caleb Rice.

¹² Their father's sister, Mary Stone (b. 1699, d. 1778) who married Barnabas Freeman of Eastham.

¹³ Their father's sister, Eunice Stone (b. 1711, d. 1816) who married David Bangs of Harwich (Brewster).

¹⁴ Their father's sister, Keziah Stone (b. 1701, d. 1763) who married Isaac Lincoln of Harwich.

